

THE THREE NEW YACHTS OF SEABOURN

Seabourn Odyssey and “New Builds”

Did You Know...

- The Yachts of Seabourn will increase its capacity by 216 percent with the launch of Seabourn Odyssey in June 2009 – the cruise industry’s first luxury vessel to launch in six years – and two additional “new builds” in 2010 and 2011. The three new yachts will each accommodate 450 guests, bringing Seabourn’s total number of berths to 1,974 in 2011.
- At 32,000 tons and carrying just 450 guests, Seabourn Odyssey will provide one of the highest space-per-guest ratios in the cruise industry, allowing room for more dining venues, more bars and lounges, enhanced deck and pool space and a variety of spacious, sumptuous suites.
- At 11,400 square feet, Seabourn Odyssey’s spa will be the largest spa on any luxury vessel. Highlights include two Spa Villas complete with a whirlpool big enough for two, a private balcony for sunbathing, a double daybed and a full living room area.
- More than 90 percent of the new yachts’ 225 suites will feature verandas, ranging from 65 to 441 square feet.
- Odyssey will host Seabourn’s first world cruise, a 108-day voyage departing in January of 2010 and visiting 42 ports in 26 countries on six continents from Ft. Lauderdale to Athens.
- The Grand Wintergarden Suite will be the largest of any Seabourn suite, with 1,182 square feet of indoor space, including a glass-enclosed solarium with tub and daybed, two bedrooms, two bathrooms, guest bath, one whirlpool, dining for six, two bars and three flat-screen televisions. Two verandas will offer an additional 215 square feet of private space.
- Seabourn Odyssey will offer four restaurants, from the casual, open-air Patio Grill to the fine-dining Restaurant, featuring menus created by celebrity chef Charlie Palmer.
- A new feature of Seabourn Odyssey and the other new builds will be Seabourn Square, an innovative “conciERGE lounge” inviting guests to access every shipboard service in a relaxed, club-like atmosphere designed to encourage sociability. The Square will include library, upscale shops, an outdoor terrace and a coffee bar, as well as concierges ready to respond to every request.
- All guests on the maiden voyage of Seabourn Odyssey shared the unprecedented honor of acting as godparents of the new yacht and taking part in the naming ceremony, a distinction usually reserved for a celebrity, royalty or otherwise noteworthy personality.
